Atom One Light Theme

404 badge not found

VSCode Theme based on Atom's One Light theme. Best rated One Light theme port in the marketplace, features full Workbench theming.

```
1 // An exceptionally useful comment
2 function func(param) {
3     var text = 'string';
4     for (var i = 0; i < param.length; i++) {
5         text += i;
6     }
7     return {
8         "text": text,
9         "boolean": false
10    };
11 }

Inconsistencies?

If you find any inconsistency in any language, raise an Issue and I'll fix it, please provide a sample for the language so I can compare.

Attention: If you are using VSCode 1.43.0, you must be seeing very different colors, as reported here. An update to VSCode will be released fixing this issue for all themes, in the meantime, make sure you set this in your settings:

"editor.semanticHighlighting.enabled": false
```

Customization

If you are using VSCode 1.12+ versions you can customize the colors to your liking, overriding the ones provided by this theme. More info here.

Custom Font

The original One Light theme does not use a custom font, for that reason I don't supply a custom font either, but you might be used to see screenshots of the One Light theme using the Fira Mono font. You can easily customize your settings to use it.

If you download and install the font in your system, you can add this option to have a custom font:

```
{
  "editor.fontFamily": "YOUR FONT, Menlo, Monaco, 'Courier New', monospace"
}
```
